

The Research Process For Nurses

Jennifer Jackson PhD RN
Faculty of Nursing, University of Calgary

Fall 2020

Nurses have a long history of research

Processes are similar...

In more detail...

Ethics are an integral part of research

- Ethical obligations in research are just as serious as ethics in clinical practice
- Ethics must be considered in every aspect of the research process, not only the beginning

A modern pillar of our profession

That creates new knowledge for our practice
